

Amy Schirf

Centre County Recycling & Refuse Authority

Amy is the Education Coordinator for the Centre County Recycling and Refuse Authority where she promotes recycling education through printed & on-line media, facility tours, presentations and more. She writes a monthly recycling column for the Centre Daily Times and is a frequent guest on many local radio shows. Prior to working for the Authority, Amy was the Education Director for the Professional Recyclers of Pennsylvania where she administered the Recycling Professional Certification Program. She has a B.S. degree in Environmental Studies from Youngstown State University.